

PRESS RELEASE

The Christian Council of Ghana (CCG) commends the Electoral Commission (EC) for the recently held Inter-Party Advisory Committee (IPAC) meeting and hopes this consultation will continue between the EC and other stakeholders in order to foster understanding and prepare Ghana for a free, fair and transparent elections 2012.

The CCG would like to encourage the EC to particularly facilitate the activities of the District Inter-Party Advisory Committee (DIPAC) so that there can be deeper involvement and appreciation of the electoral issues at the district level as well.

The Council appeals to striking Medical Doctors to return to work in order to save lives whilst charging the appropriate bodies to ensure that labour issues are settled expeditiously so that the nation's hospitals, schools and other sectors do not resort to strikes as a way of drawing attention to their grievances.

The CCG calls on all Ghanaians to pray for our nation and work towards unity and progress for our dear nation's continuing peace.
